Let the following inspire your scene description:

Dark blood in a gentle stream

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

The crying of a child

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

The laughter of a woman

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

Torches in the night

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

A bird's cry

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

The barking of a dog

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

A cry of pain

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

Buzzing insects over a flowery meadow

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

Salty tears on a cheek

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

Flies buzzing above the rotten carcass of a horse

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

Moonlight reflecting off snowy mountain slopes

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

Pouring rain gathering in muddy pools

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

Clouds drifting across a mountain ridge

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

Heavy fog obscuring all things distant

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

A burbling mountain stream

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

The cold darkness of a cave

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

A pillow of snow muffles the calls

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

A sharp stench of urine

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

The spicy scent of rosemary

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

A metallic taste of blood

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

Something smells foul and moldy

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

A choking smoke brings forth tears

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

An acrid smell of dried sweat

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

Horses riding into the night

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.

Let the following inspire your scene description:

Keep the card and use it to take over the narration from another player.